MEDICAL.

ARE ENDORSED AND PRESCRIBED BY more leading Physicians than any other Tonic or Stimulant now in use. They are

A SURE PREVENTIVE

For Fever and Ague, Intermittents, Biliousness and all disorders arising from malarious causes. They are highly recommended as an Anti-Dyspeptic, and in cases of Indigestion are Invaluable. As an Appetizer and Recuperant, and in cases of General Debility they have never in a single instance failed in producing the most happy results. They are particularly

BENEFICIAL TO FEMALES,

Strengthening the body, invigorating the mind, and giving tone and elasticity to the whole system. The Home Bitters are compounded with the greatest care, and no tonic stimulant has ever before been offered to the public so PLEASANT TO THE TASTE and at the same time combining so many remedial agents endorsed by the medical fraternity as the best known to the Pharmacopœia. It costs but little to give them a fair trial, and Every Family Should Have a Bottle.

No preparation in the world can produce so many unqualified endorsements by physicians of the very highest standing in their profession.

Endorsed also by the Clergy and the leading denominational papers.

UNITED STATES MARINE HOSPITAL, St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 8, 1870.

JAMES A. JACKSON & Co— I have examined the formula for making the "Home Stomach Bitters," and used them in this hospital the last four months. I consider them the most valuable tonic and stimulant now in use, S. H. MELCHER, Resident Physician in charge U. S. Marine Hospital.

JAMES A. JACKSON & Co—Gentlemen: As you have communicated to the medical profession the recipe of the "Home Bitters" it cannot, therefore be considered as a patent medicine, no patent having been taken for it. We have examined the formula for making the "Home Bitters," and unhesitatingly say the combination is one of rare excellence, all the articles used in its composition are the best of the class to which they belong, being highly tonic Stimulant, Stomachic, Carminative, and slightly Laxative. The mode of preparing them is strictly in accordance with the rules of pharmacy. Having used them, seen his effects in our private practice, we take pleasure in recommending them to all persons desirous of taking Bitters as being the best Tonic and Stimulant now offered to the public.

BONDS.

A

Safe and Profitable INVESTMENT.

First Mortgage Bonds

To a limited amount, upon a railroad which is well located for business, and has been already largely constructed with the funds of its Stockholders, cannot be otherwise than safe. This security is increased if the Constructing Company is composed of men of high character, and of ample means for successfully carrying through any work that they undertake.

THE

New Orleans, Mobile and Texas

Railroad Company

Offer for sale a bond which combines these advantages to an unusual degree. The route lies between Mobile, Alabama, and Houston, Texas—passing through New Orleans, the New York of the South. Of the whole line of 475 miles, about two-thirds are already built, and the Stockholders have expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS in the work. The bonds now offered are secured by a mortgage upon all that part of the line west of New Orleans, which has an enormous traffic assured to it from the start, this being the only rail connection by which the cotton, corn, cattle and other productions of Texas can reach New Orleans.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The First Mortgage

Eight Per Cent. Bonds

Now offered, are limited in amount to $12,500 per mile, and are for $1,000 or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of 8 per cent. Currency or 7 per cent. Gold, at the option of the holder. Bonds registered if desired.

Among the leading Stockholders of the Company are Hon. E D Morgan, Ex-Governor and Ex-U S Senator; Hon John A Griswold, Ex-Lieutenant-Governor, Troy, N Y; Hon Oakes Ames, M C, Massachusetts; Messrs Marton, Bliss & Co., J Von Hoffman & Co., J & W Seligman & Co., Harrison Durkee and others, of New York; Benjamin E Bates, President Bank of Commerce, Franklin Havens, President Merchant's Bank, Boston, and others, also well known.

The above statement of facts proves the Safety of these Bonds. Their Profit is equally manifest upon examination. They are sold for the present at 90, and accrued interest from July 1st. At this price they afford a certain income for forty-five years, or nearly nine per cent. upon their cost. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent, greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents, while holders of Government Sixes will find a decided profit in selling them at present high prices, and re-investing in New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Bonds.

Subscriptions will be received in Portland, by

The Prospect

The favorable auspices under which Republicans began the present political canvass in Maine continue. The profound quiet is unbroken save by the occasional dropping out of the ranks of a disappointed office-seeker, who has discovered that the Republican party is "corrupt" immediately after his own retirement to private life or failure to emerge therefrom. On the whole, however, there are less of these curious coincidences of failure and apostacy this year than we have ever known; but it is not a matter of much consequence, since for every one that has gone in this way two good men have always come. The party that thrives on the loss of Seward, Chase, Doolittle and the Blairs is not likely to suffer in consequence of the defection of Smith, or Jones or Brown.

The reports circulated by Democratic papers in relation to dissensions among Republicans in some of the counties are entirely without foundation. For instance, the Argus has announces that the nominations in York County were made by the triumph of one faction over another. But the Biddeford Journal, whose editor is on the county ticket, denies it, saying: "A more harmonious convention we never attended, and the endeavor of a correspondent of the Portland Argus to represent the same as broken up into factions and a triumph of one at the expense of the other, was made for the purpose of making capital for the Democratic party, and is entirely devoid of the least coloring of truth."

An attempt is also made to give some unusual significance to the defeat of Hon. Anson P. Morrill for Senator in the Kennebec County Convention, it being alleged that a serious division will be the result. This is nonsense. If Anson P. Morrill wanted to be Senator ever so much, he is not the man to bolt or allow his friends to show any lukewarmness in the cause under such circumstances. But he did not want the position, and it has all along been reported in Kennebec that, though he was urgently appealed to by his friends to become a candidate, he peremptorily refused. After so brilliant a political career as his, such a position could hardly be an object of his ambition. At the last moment, however, his name was presented to the Convention. Under these circumstances it is a sufficiently striking indication of his popularity that he had the most votes on the first ballot.

And so in all the other counties there have of course, been the usual rivalries between the friends of different candidates—and nothing more. This is something very different from the deep-seated, radical differences that we see existing between the different factions of the Democracy—the party profession to "accept" the constitution, and another bitterly denouncing it—one County Convention endorsing the "new departure," and another ignoring it—Democratic newspapers defending Tammany and the Tammany thieves, and Democratic orators denouncing them as robbers! It is a fact which admits of no denial that the Republican party never came before the people presenting a more united front, while the Democracy were never so much divided on matters of principle.

Humors of the Campaign.

We should have been glad if the Oxford Register had given the name or the Democratic exchange from which it admiringly copies the following "Sober Thoughts" addressed to religious people in behalf of the party that favored slavery, engaged in rebellion, everywhere upholds the rum traffic and usually opposes education. We have seen nothing funnier since the confessions of Mr. Kimball in answer to a newspaper correspondent's questions. We shall next have the "members of our leading churches appealed to in behalf of rum shops and gambling dens:

We wish to present to the members of our leading churches a few sober thoughts. Gentlemen are you satisfied with the political and moral condition of this, our common country? Are you satisfied that the active support of your ministers and yourselves shall be given to the present administration, reeking as it does, with falsehoods, corruption, oppression and wrong from the President down through all the different grades to the most humble clerk in a country post-office.

Drunkenness, knavery, murders and debauchery are becoming the fashionable accomplishments of men in high places. The great strength and reliance of the Radical party is on you. They rally round your sacred altars! The ignorant negro, the purjer, the the thieving lobbyist and all the cohorts of villainy are gathered under the sacred mantle of religion and morality.

Fraud and rascality pervades every channel of the body politic, all legislation from Congress down to the smallest city councils is governed by rings and combinations of dishonest politicians.

Gentlemen these may be unpleasant truths, but nevertheless, the Radical party are using more means of corruption than was ever suggested by the fertile brains of all the rogues of past ages combined.

Life and property are becoming less secure daily, our taxes are doubling year by year, all the healthy middle classes are becoming merged in the great army of common day laborers while the few are becoming vastly rich and arrogant. Gentlemen these are questions which need your careful and prayerful consideration.

THE Oxford Register believes in the destiny of the Tammany thieves to make their operations national. It is indignant over the report that five million dollars will be raised by these distinguished robbers to control the National Democratic Convention, saying:—"Nonsense! No doubt Tammany and other Democratic organizations in the State of New York can raise even $5,000,000 if necessary. But Hoffman can be nominated without paying a dollar, if he desires." In other words the Democracy of the United States are ready without any persuasion whatever, to clothe Tammany with power to tax the whole country as it has taxed New York.

THE public is again shocked by a railroad accident by far the most frightful that ever occurred in New England and has but few parallels, and there have been but one or two more fatal casualties in the history of reckless railroading in this country. Like the other accidents that have occurred this season, it was a pure blunder that should be regarded as a crime and be punished accordingly. The public demand, in this case, now that these wholesale murders are becoming frightfully frequent, that the party or parties responsible for this disaster, be indicted for manslaughter and sentenced to the fullest extent of the law. Wellington once, when his army was famishing, hung a couple of commissaries. The effect was immediate. The army was supplied in abundance. A few applications of the law to those parties who persist in telescoping trains. Conviction for manslaughter would doubtless make such accidents of very rare occurrence.

ONE OF THE OLD GUARD.—That sterling Democrat, Alexander H. Stephens, is said to be greatly delighted with the following letter from one of the "old guard" in this State.—Mr. Stephens may congratulate himself that the greater part of his party associates in Maine would gladly subscribe to the sentiment therein contained:

——, Maine, Aug. 8, 1871.

To the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens: DEAR SIR,—I hear you edit a paper termed The Atlantic Sun, and desirous of taking a paper in some part of your State, I thought I would write for you to send me a copy of the The Sun, that I might subscribe for the same if it is what I want. I suppose you don't think well of the people of the State of Maine; but let me say to you that not all of the people of Maine are changed from the principles of their fathers, but still believe that the independence of all States should finally triumph over this reign of terror we have had for the last few years.—We shall labor for the restoration of your liberties from the brutality of those who gained power by deception and since hold it by usurpation. Yours truly, Political Notes.

Senators Hamlin of Maine, Nye of Nevada and Williams of Oregon, and Congressman Bingham Dawes and Maynard are making speeches in California in aid of the Republican cause.

The Massachusetts papers are expressing themselves more freely concerning Gen. Butler, since his Springfield speech, than they ever have any public man before. The Journal is little inclined to editorial severity, says among other things:

A correspondent of an Essex county contemporary tells a story about General Butler, which is certainly characteristic enough to be true. It appears that a lady prominently connected with the cause of woman's suffrage complained to the General that her reputation was suffering on account of the disagreeable publicity which attended all her movements. He at once remonstrated with her upon the folly of any such solicitude, adding to his argument his own experience as follows: "I never knew the meaning of pure, unadulterated enjoyment, until I stood by and watched the last shred of my reputation go up in a balloon. I found this a condition of actual freedom. Try it, and rid yourself at once of so superfluous a thing as a character." We should judge that General Butler, within a week or two, had made the surprising discovery that he still had some character left; and hence he hurried to Springfield to dispatch the last balloon cargo.

Ex-Senator James R. Doolittle has received the Democratic nomination for Governor of Wisconsin on a platform like that promulgated by Vallandigham, and which also denounces the present National Administration in good set terms. The Republican majority in Wisconsin in 1870 was 6,117, and in 1869 was 8,215. In 1868 the majority was 24,447, and in 1864 it was 17,574. If the present canvass is at all active or excited, Mr. Doolittle will stand a very small chance of success.

Hon. Thomas L. Clingham has mapped it all out for the Democrats. This is his plan: 'As the world was created in six days, so might the National Democracy in six words enunciate a platform. They might declare for constitutional government, equal taxation, economy, amnesty." In the same letter he suggests the Democracy should resume its old proper name as the genuine Democratic Republican Party of America, and says that there is too much involved in the struggle to permit the party to consult the wishes of particular candidates in the North, or to gratify the feelings of men in the South, who are attempting to keep up a war of words. During the late unpleasantness the Hon. Thomas was in the Southern wing of the rebel army.

Camp Ground.

KENNEBUNK, Friday, Aug. 26, 1871.

Last evening there was a general prayer meeting at the stand instead of preaching.—It was a meeting principally in the interest of those seeking the higher life, and was considered one of great power.

This morning Rev. Mr. Pomeroy of Western N.Y. preached from these words, "But tarry ye at Jerusalem, until ye be endowed with power from on high." There is one thing that we are all agreed upon, and that is, our need of power. Christ saw that the little church needed something more than common religion, and that was the baptism of power. Some people have a small idea of Christianity. What is power religious power? Some think that it is in building grand churches, with two steeples, and a big organ that will bellow half over the town; but, it is not in that. The Devil knows Jesus, who he is, and dreads him. God's big things comes up from man's little things. Its power to take take a low seat and see the big man go by, and not feel bad about it; not to keep awake nights, when we have been passed by, by the great big puffs. Its power to stand up for truth and righteousness, to strike for the master, to be singular for Christ, make you unpopular, and not feel bad about that. Its power to take hold of a good thing, while there is only half a hold left, and lift it up toward God and heaven. Its power to be accounted a fool for Christ's sake. The Devil would not swap off this babbling about, a lack of good sense in the disciples of Christ, for all the infidels in his service. Its power, not to feel that we are in company with God, as a partner in business, but his agent, sent with the message of life and salvation. God wants only agents, and wants them to deliver his orders just as they are given, without any emendations or erasures. Christ's power was manifested when he called a few fishermen and sent them out in their fishers' coats to proclaim his truth.—They stole a march on the Devil that time, as he was not looking for such power under that guise; he was not looking for anything of that kind. Jesus wants educated men that would be a match for the Devil any way. How shall we retain the power. When a man buys a horse he does not hitch him to a tree to see how much he can pull; he examins his points with a critical eye, and determines the matter. Faith presupposes home weakness, until we are upon our own resources. Christ is not an expedient, but an alternative. Faith wants a necessity as well as an allurement. You cannot allure a man from depravity until he feels his necessity.

I have given but a poor report of this discourse, which was full of striking illustrations, apt similes, and strong, sharp points.

AFTERNOON.

Rev. Dr. Webster, of Charlestown, S. C., was present and presented the claims of the South for educational purposes.

Rev. Mr. Jones, of Bath, preached from James, 1st chap. 25 verse, "Whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed." There are terms of relationship that awaken in us the deepest interest, whose heart has not thrilled with the name heaven.

There are terms of state and condition that effect us. When the news came that President Lincoln had emancipated the slaves, a thrill of joy went through every State and land, where the banner of freedom floats. When the news came of Lee's surrender, and Libby, and Andersonville yielded up the emaciated forms of the boys in blue, not only a thrill of joy went through every loyal man's heart, but a shout of gratitude to God, that echoed and re-echoed through the land. Those who disregard the divine law are the slaves of sin. The law of God is true and perfect; it must, therefore, be divine, because of its perfectness. It is for man throughout all generations. The law of liberty is the law of love. What should we have known of God's love if he had not shown it unto us. The great want in the human heart is the element of love God gave us proof of his great love in the gift of his son.

Our notes of this sermon were complete, but time fails to re-write for this paper. It was well conceived and well delivered.

In your notice of the Fryeburgh Camp-meeting to commence September 4th, the distance from the depot should have been stated two miles instead of four and a half. This meeting breaks up Tuesday morning.

Yours, DUNDEE.

A Indiana paper asserts, after carefully sounding public opinion, that those men who catch fleas, and, after depriving the poor things of their legs, sell them for flaxseed, must stop it, as the people won't submit to be humbugged any longer.

Poland Camp Meeting.

EMPIRE CAMP GROUND, Aug. 26, 1871.

To the Editor of the Press:

The annual camp meeting upon these grounds commenced Tuesday evening last, and will continue until Tuesday morning of next week. The meeting is under the charge of Rev. Dr. Webber, P. E., of this district, and thus far most excellent order has been maintained. Very great improvements have been made upon these grounds within a few years. The old plank seats have given place to others built in better style, with high backs, all neatly painted. These, I am told, are sufficient to seat about 3000 people.

The grounds have been graded and street avenues opened, which afford excellent facilities for erecting tents and passing over and around the encampment. Excellent spring water is brought upon the grounds in aqueducts, and several wells have been sunk at convenient points upon the premises. The water from one at least of these wells, in taste and purity, is nearly equal to the Poland mineral springs.

A spacious boarding house one hundred feet in length, with all necetsary appendeges for cooking purposes has been erected, in which is furnished an excellent table for all who desire to board outside of the tents. A large and convenient stable has also been built for the accommodation of those attending these meetings.

There are about one hundred tents upon the grounds. Among these are a goodly number of beautiful cottages fitted up in excellent style and occupied by families—some of them several weeks before the meeting commenced. This is a great improvement on the old camp meeting style, of congregating together in one common tent. Family cottages and large canvers tents for social meetings, will, to a very great extent, hereafter be the arrangement on all well regulated encampments. Of these "Hamilton" and "Martha's Vineyard"—in the old Bay State—are excellent types.

There has been preaching at the stand at 10 a. m., and 2 and 7 1-2 p. m., of each day. A prominent theme in the discourses already given, has been the doctrine of holiness, or Christian perfection. In this particular, a very visible change has, within a few years come over camp meeting religious exercises. Whether these special efforts for the church in the direction just indicated, as a substitute for the old-fashioned way of laboring to bring the unconverted to Christ, is an improvement in the management of camp meetings—is, to a very great extent a debateable question, even among Methodists.

The preaching thus far has all been good, but the sermons of Rev. Dr. Teft of Brewer, Butler of New York, and Revs. Strout of Conway and Day of Auburn, have been very fine specimens of pulpit oratory.

The attendance has been large thus far—but to-morrow (Sunday) if the weather continues good, will undoubtedly be the great day of the feast.

An efficient police force are in attendance and the best of order is maintained both on and about the grounds.

The charge of an entrance fee of 25 cents for each carriage, serves the double purpose of furnishing means to defray the expenses of the meeting and keep off the ground a set of rowdies and horse jockies, which, before the rule was adopted, more or less annoyed those attending these meetings. Yesterday the District Steward, held a meeting and elected John J. Perry of Oxford, S. R. Bean of Lewiston, C. P. Knight of Bethel. F. A. Plaisted of Gardiner, and E. Clark of Bath, lay delegates from the Gardiner district to the next Maine Conference.

The religious interest of the meeting is good and on the increase. Old prejudy formerly existing against camp meetings are fast dying out, and among the Methodists they have become an "Institution" fully recognized by that large and influential denomination. P.

The Medway Murder Case.

The testimony for the State continued Friday morning. The daughter of Ray, the murdered man, testified to going with her brother after the cow about that time, and thinks she never saw her father after; she also remembered asking her mother where her father was once or twice, but got no answer that she remembers of.

Reuben Boynton, a nephew of Mrs. Ray, testified that prisoner did not give him the boots referred to. I found them on some boards in the shed-chamber; don't remember whether before or after Ray was missing, nor how long I kept them. The boots were of kip or some other thin leather; don't recollect if any one measured them while I had them; they were dry when I got them; wore them while digging potatoes to keep my stockings clean; had them on after Ray's body was found; don't know how long after.

Leonard L. Buswell, of Lincoln, Deputy Sheriff, testified that he arrested Reed at Medway on the 29th of September, 1870.

[Here witness produced in court the clothing taken from the body of Ray, and the end of the setting pole alluded to in Dr. Reynolds' testimony Thursday. The pants were of blue homespun with suspenders attached. The back part of the pants was dark and had dried mud on it.]

Witness resumed:—I took possession of this clothing when the arrest was made. The pants were damp then, otherwise they were in the same condition as now, except that there was more grass around the buckle and buttons.—Reed had a pair of old tanned moccasins on his feet. His hand was swollen on the back; he told me he hurt it by falling while carrying a bunch of shingles. Reed told me that Ray was murdered and said that Mrs. Ray could not have done it, for Ray was "quite a knurly little fellow," and that she could not have the least knowledge of it.

Wm. H. Campbell, of Medway, testified that he found the end of the setting-pole [shown in court] on the Friday or Saturday after the body was found Wednesday, on the ground among some thistles on the right hand side of the door of Ray's house.

The government rested its case here and John F. Robinson, Esq., of Lincoln, opened for the prisoner.

Loring W. Lyons, the first witness called by the defense, testified that he and Joseph Higgins first found the body of John Ray in the hole on the island. Higgins stood on the east side of the hole and lifted off a fir bush and a little beech bush, and then put them back; think he must have made a track in the dirt; didn't notice any track in particular; don't know as the track was mentioned for half an hour. Higgins said, "If we had thought to look before they rushed around this place, we might have found a track." I stepped nigh enough myself to make a track and Higgins had to step on the dirt to get to the place.—Others huddled round and stepped up to see the body. Don't remember of anything being said about a track after Higgins mentioned it.

Frank Fowler testified that he got to the body when there were only three men there, and noticed no track. Nothing was said about a track until after the body was taken out, some two or three hours after it was found. The crowd was all huddled up round the hole. I employed Eldridge Reed in May, 1870, to haul some goods for me from Medway to Little Schoodic. He hauled one load on the 9th and one on the 10th. I went up with him on the 9th. I saw Mrs. Ray at Wm. Boynton's at dinner the next day—the 10th. Reed started back the night of the 9th. I stayed at Little Schoodic until 3 o'clock the afternoon of the 10th, when Reed came with the second load; he had nobody with him. Think Wm. Boynton went on the drive on the 10th.

The Court here adjourned until 2 p. m., at which hour, Mrs. Boynton was called and testified that Mrs. Ray was at her house at Little Schoodic, in May, when Mr. Boynton went on to the drive; she remained there most of the time until after haying.

In the cross-examination, witness testified that Reed was at Boynton's before Buswell, the deputy sheriff, came up. Wm. Boynton and his mother were there. Reed cried there, and said he understood William had been telling hard stories about him; said he had heard that William had said that he (Reed) had threatened Ray. Reed says "you know it is not with you, William, as it is with me, as you were gone when the murder occurred, but I was at home, and don't think I can clear myself." He said it was hard for an innocent man to be hung or sent to State Prison.

Wm. Boynton testified that Mrs. Ray came to his house at Little Schoodic, in April, and was there when Reed came with the goods for Fowler. I went away the next day and was gone five days. Left Mrs. Ray with my wife. I had some conversation with Reed at his trial. He said he was sorry to see me there, as I knew enough to hang him; said I ought not to tell of threats he had made; it was a hard thing for an innocent man to be hung or sent to State Prison. He says: "It is different with you; you were away when the murder was committed, but I was at home, and I don't think I can clear myself."

Mrs. Anna Reed, mother of the prisoner, testified that Warren Butler bore a bad reputation in Medway. Reed Day was missing on Saturday afternoon. The Tuesday before, Elbridge dug potatoes at home all day till after supper, don't know if he went to the reading meeting at the school house that evening. He left home at 6 o'clock, about sunset, and returned between 7 and 8 in the evening. I was getting ready to go to bed; Elbridge came into my sleeping room and got a bottle of liniment, but didn't say what it was for; he then went up stairs as the clock struck 8, leaving his coat and vest on a chair four or five feet from my door. Our house is not lathed or plastered, and I can hear a person walking overhead very plain. I fastened the door myself and went to sleep a little after 9 o'clock; am easily awakened. I got up at 5 in the morning and found Elbridge building a fire. His coat and vest were on the chair where he left them the night before. He ate breakfast with us and dug potatoes all day. Heard him tell his father he stumbled down and hurt his hand. He was at home Wednesday night. I remember Reuben Boynton wearing Elbridge's old thin boots; don't think I saw Elbridge wear them for two months previous.

The balance of the testimony is to the character of one of the government witnesses named Butler, who is known as that "lying Butler." Two others testified to digging the hole the fall before for hazel nuts, which they supposed squirrels had deposited there. The case was continued Saturday.

The first camp meeting ever held in this country was by Presbyterians, 71 years ago.

State News.

ANDROSCOGGIN COUNTY.

The Journal hears that that Daly, who was tried on the charge of murdering John Kinney in Lewiston, last winter, and acquitted at the April term of Court, and who moved from town shortly after his discharge, is insane.

In regard to the report that Lewiston is making an effort to secure the State Fair in that city this autumn, the Kennebec Journal says, of course there is no truth in this report. The time has gone by for a fair this year.

KENNEBEC COUNTY.

Rev. Mr. Gunnison, pastor of the Universalist society at West Waterville, died Friday morning very suddenly. Though he had been out of health for some time past he had not been incapacitated for ministerial labor, and he preached on the Sabbath before his death.

PENOBSCOT COUNTY.

Mr. James M. Smith has left at the office of the Bangor Whig, a large specimen of bog iron ore, found on his place in East Corinth.

The Whig says some excitement was caused in Winn last week by the elopement of a married woman with an employe of the tannery at that place.

Col. S. G. Jerrard has been appointed by the Governor and Council to fill the vacancy in the County Commissioners of Penobscot County, caused by the resignation of Col. Israel B. Norcross.

IN GENERAL.

The Kennebec Journal says the Governor and Council adjourned Friday. The prayer of Hills, in State Prison for rumselling, was not granted, and he will therefore have to suffer on patiently. If any one deserves punishment it is a vender of "liquid damnation." John F. Lawrence, of Penobscot county, found guilty of murder, and sentenced in September last to be hanged, has been very anxious for some time past to know his fate. In conversation he has made the remark that if he was to die he could tread the gallows like a man; if he was to live he wanted to make his plans accordingly, but didn't want to be kept in suspense. The sentence of death was commuted to imprisonment for life.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Medical Mistakes.

It took the faculty about a thousand years to discover that the best way to cure disease was not to render the patient too weak to contend with it. Within the last twenty years, however, the whole system of medical practice has been changed for the better. In diseases or complaints caused by excessive heat, for instance, the doctors no longer recommend the reduction of the invalid's strength by prostrating medicines. The vast success which has attended the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for debility, has given even the most prejudiced members of the old school an insight into the only true and rational theory of cure. Cantharides, calomel, and overpowering doses of opium, are now among the obsolete nostrums of another age. The lancet, once as much the legitimate weapon of the physician as the sword is of the soldier, is seldom drawn from its case. The principle of life is no longer drained from the veins by the quart, and watery gruel for the strengthless invalid has ceased to be considered an appropriate diet. Vigor is the motto of the rational members of the profession, and they understand, at last, the value of a sterling vegetable tonic. So, also, with the people at large; and without consulting medical men at all, they have adopted the bitters as a household remedy, thereby economising both cash and health.

Note the fact, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles only, never in bulk, and that the abortions springing up in various parts of the country, and sometimes offered as substitutes for the great national specific, are all utterly worthless.

BONDS

EUROPEAN AND NORTH AMERICAN RAILWAY CO.

THE E. & N. A. RAILWAY is completed from Bangor, Maine, to St. John, New Brunswick, a distance of 262 miles,—with the exception of 56 miles between Winn, Me., and the boundary line of the State at Vanceboro'. On this portion the track is now being laid, both from Winn eastward and from Vanceboro' westward. And the road will be completed and trains running from Bangor to St. John in September next.

The road will then be

THE ONLY RAILWAY

CONNECTING THE UNITED STATES AND THE BRITISH PROVINCES (New Brunswick and Nova Scotia). The population of the maritime Provinces is about ONE MILLION, and all the land travel, freight, mails, &c., between them and the United States, will pass over this Trunk line, which is WITHOUT COMPETITION. Although not yet completed, the business of the road is already far greater than its most sanguine friends predicted, and is continually increasing.

The net earnings from Local Business alone, on the 56 miles completed in Maine, already exceed the interest on two and one quarter millions of dollars, and will be largely increasing after Sept next by the business to and from the Provinces.

To complete this road, and to equip it as fully as its present large business and the immediate increase consequent upon its completion, requires,—the Company has issued its Bonds to the amount of Two Millions of Dollars, secured by a

FIRST & ONLY MORTGAGE

ON ITS ENTIRE ROAD AND PROPERTY FROM WINN to VANCEBORO' (besides a Second Mortgage on the entire road and equipments from Bangor to Winn, 56 miles. This portion cost some $2,300,000, and the entire Line, is on is a mortgage to the city of Bangor for $1,000,000) —and, in addition thereto, by a FIRST AND ONLY MORTGAGE on 800,000 Acres of Land!

Said lands being the same granted by the State of Maine to aid the construction of this road. They are situated along the Penobscot and St. John rivers, and are heavily timbered and valuable. Large tracts, especially in the fertile Aroostook Valley, (the finest agricultural district in the State,) are valuable for farming lands as well as for their timber. This immense grant of lands equals about of Railroad with which they are mortgaged. They cover 1250 square miles (nearly as large as the State of Rhode Island, which is 1306 square miles,) and are of great value.

14,000 Acres to each Mile

Thus, besides the mortgage of the Railway, its equipments, &c., which alone is ample security for the Bonds, there are timber and farm lands to the amount of also pledged to ensure the payment thereof.

The Bonds are for $1000 each, due March 1, 1899, bear interest at

SIX PER CENT. PER ANNUM,

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN

GOLD COIN,

Free from U. S. Taxation.

Coupons payable March 1 and September 1, in New York. Bonds registered if desired. Coupons made payable (£6 each) in London, England, if preferred.

SINKING FUND—All proceeds of sales of land, as well as of timber and other products therefrom, are, by the Trustees, to be invested in these Bonds if they can be bought at par or less; otherwise in United States, State or Municipal Securities. And on July 1, 1879, and annually thereafter until these Bonds become due or are all paid, the E. & N. A. Railway Co. is bound to pay to the Trustees a sum of money equal to one per cent. of the amount of Bonds outstanding. Such amounts, and all interest received on securities, belonging to the Sinking Fund are to be invested as above stated, and these accumulations are solely for the purpose of additionally providing for the redemption of these Bonds. The Sinking Fund constitutes a third great element of security and strength, and adds to the safety of these Bonds.

The Trustees are Hon. HANNIBAL HAMLIN, of Bangor, Me., and J. EDGAR THOMSON, Esq., of Philadelphia, Pa.

The Trustees are authorized to receive the Bonds at Par and Accrued Interest in payment for any of the lands at their appraised value.

These very desirable securities for sale at 90 and Accrued Interest in Currency.

U. S. Bonds and all marketable securities received at highest market price in exchange for these Bonds, and can be sent by Express and these returned by Express, free of expense to the purchaser.

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes sympathize with the stomach. They respond to the mortific action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's choicest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chyllification is now progressing, without its previous agonies. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perfect the functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, Asiatic Cholera.

PORTLAND, Aug. 26th, 1871.

To the Editor of the Press:

SIR.—Permit me, through your paper, to remind my fellow-citizens of one or two facts as to the character and cure of this malignant disease. In a letter from the Rev. Dr. Hamlin, of Constantinople, some years ago, to Mr. Lord, of the Christian Mirror, the doctor distinctly stated his conviction that the disease is not contagious, and that by the timely use of suitable remedies, all fatal consequences from it might be successfully prevented. In the said letter these remedies, which are of the simplest character, are specified, and the method and order of their use very clearly described. The letter was published in the Mirror, and subsequently by the editor of that paper, in a small pamphlet form. The city government afterwards threw off a very large edition and distributed it gratuitously among the citizens; and one at least of our druggists printed still another edition, putting a copy of it, with the medicine prepared, according to the recipes of Dr. H.

Dr. Hamlin has had most favorable opportunities of observation and large experience in the use of the remedies referred to. They are very cheap, easily procured, and should be kept in every family. Said letter is easily obtainable, and its republication at this time would be opportune and advantageous.

Yours respectfully, J. J. CARRUTHERS.

Resolutions of Respect,

AT a special meeting of the Directors of the Maine General Hospital held at the Mayor's office, it was Voted, That the President be requested to prepare resolutions expressive of the feelings of the Board with regard to the death of Mr. Barnes.

Voted, That a copy of the foregoing resolutions, with the assurance of our warmest sympathy, be sent to the family of our deceased associate, and that they be printed in the daily papers and entered upon the records of the Hospital.

F. H. GERRISH, Secretary. JOHN T. GILMAN, President.

A NOVEL EXCURSION.—Mr. John L. Shaw has projected a novel and pleasant excursion to North Conway on Wednesday next. Read his unique advertisement. Those who have visited this famous region can well appreciate the result, and those who have not been there can never go under more favorable auspices, for Mr. Shaw has made arrangements for the accommodation of those who wish to avail themselves of an opportunity to remain there a day or two.

PERSONAL.—Harry Brown and Fred E. Partington of Portland, were in Rome on the 5th of August. Mrs. G. K. Jewett, Miss L. Jewett, C. K. Jkwett, D. S. Talcott and the Misses. Talcott of Bangor, and Mrs. Allen Lombard of Augusta, and he son, Mr. O. D. Lombard of California were in London on the 12th inst.

Joseph Libby.

Master Joseph Libby died yesteaday at the residence of his son-in-law, Wm. L. Alden, about noon, passing away calmly and quietly and without any apparent sense of pain or suffering. His last illness was brief, of only a week in duration, although he had been gradually failing for several weeks, and his malady was a combination of internal disorders. For some time before his death he visited his place of business daily, in accordance with the custom of years; but within the past week a decay of the mental and physical faculties was rapid. For two days before his death he was conscious only at intervals, and on Saturday he recognized the members of his own family with difficulty.

Hundreds, perhaps thousands of the natives of Portland—at home and scattered in all parts of the world—will receive the news of the death of a former instructor with sadness. In the course of nature death must come to men full of years, but there is a community of feeling between the teacher and pupil that endures to the end of life; and though we feel that the separation is inevitable it brings a sense of peculiar sorrow.

Master Libby was born in Buxton, Dec. 13, 1793, and he was therefore 78 years of age. He was bred to the business of a blacksmith, but one day received a sunstroke, or some similar affection, which prostrated him and incapacitated him from hard work. He therefore set himself to get an education, and by his own exertions mainly he prepared himself for college and entered Bowdoin at a comparatively advanced age and graduated in the class of 1821 with high honors. In point of age he was the senior; in scholarship he had few superiors. He excelled in mathematics and at graduation he was one of the four to whom mathematical parts were assigned. The class numbered twenty-one, and embraced Judge Joseph Howard, the late Charles Harding, the late Rev. Charles Soule, and others who became well known in the State. After graduation Mr. Libby came to Portland and was appointed Principal of the Latin School, then located on Spring street. After remaining in that position for about six years he resigned and opened a private school for instruction in mathematics and the higher branches. Meantime the Latin School was abolished and the High School for Boys established and Mr. Libby was elected Principal. He continued at the head of this institution until our old public school system was overturned and something like the present substituted. This was about the year 1850. Mr. Libby then retired, having been engaged in teaching about thirty years, and having under his tuition during that period thousands, perhaps, of boys, who in all their varied experiences, have preserved their respect for their former instructor. From that time to the present Master Libby has been engaged in the hay business.

Mr. Libby's classmates speak of him as a reserved, sedate young man, eminent for sterling good sense and steadfastness of purpose. His piety at that time was marked and ennobled his character. The man of almost fourscore years was the college graduate of 28, enlarged, ripened, and mellowed—true, faithful, and earnest. For a great many years he was a deacon of the Third Parish Church in this city, and also served his church and generation for a long period as Superintendent of the Sunday School.

Mr. Libby was twice married. His first wife left no issue. His second wife was a sister of Rev. Charles Jenkins, once pastor of the Third Parish Church, by whom he had several children, three of whom at least survive him. Two brothers also survive him, Peter Libby, of Scarboro, and Nahum Libby, late Street Commissioner of this city.

The funeral will take place to-morrow forenoon at 10 o'clock from the house of Mr. Aldens No. 8 Gray street. The Aged Brotherhood, of which Mr. Libby was a member, will probably attend, and we suggest that the pupils of the High School under Mr. Libby's instruction will take measures to pay their last respects as an organized body.

REVOLTING OUTRAGE.—Two weeks since we published a telegraphic dispatch stating that a daughter of Rev. E. M. Walters of Rockford, Ill, aged 11 years, had been shockly outraged by a negro. It now appears that the little girl was a daughter of Rev. J. E. Walton, rector of the Emanuel Episcopal church of Rockford, and pastor formerly pastor of the Third Parish church of this city. Her mother at the time, was lying at the point of death, from a cancer, and has since died. Mr. Walton was in Washington. The daughter was sent on an errand for her mother to the house of a Mrs. Potter living in the vicinity of the cemetery in East Rockford. The child, not knowing the exact location of the house, inquired of the negro (Campbell) where the house was, and he offered to accompany her there, instead of doing which, as her story runs, he took her to the cemetery, and afterwards to a skiff in the river, with which he conveyed her to a point nearly opposite from where they started, known as the old camp ground, it being the place where some regiment of troops were encamped during the war. Having intimidated the child he ravished her person, and afterward took her back to near the Potter house and left her. The child told her story to Mrs. Potter, who at once informed some friends, who had the negro arrested and lodged in county jail on the west side of the river.

So great was the excitement, caused by the outrage, among the citizens, that they collected in a mob and visited the jail with the intention of lynching the negro, But the sheriff with his deputies persuaded the men to depart. A second attempt was made by a force of from one thousand to fifteen hundred persons, to force the jail with battering rams, but the Sheriff had made his preparations, and his posse being well armed the rioters were resisted, and they withdrew. Campbell will have a fair trial. He denies committing any outrage upon the girl.

[Special Despatch by International Line.]

CHELSEA, Mass., Aug. 27.—Coroner Forsyth of this city and a jury have to-day reviewed the scene of the late railroad accident at Revere, but their verdict will not be given until to-morrow. It is reported in this city that the accommodation train had no signal light on the rear car. The night was very dark. There is a slight curve just west of Revere station, and west of this curve the road is straight for miles. It seems probable from this fact that the report about the omission of the signal lights is true. An additional casualty—among the killed was the Rev. Dr. Ezra S. Gannett of Arlington street Unitarian Church, Boston. He was 80 years old, and much loved and respected in this vicinity. C.

[To Associated Press.]

BOSTON, Aug. 27. The appalling railroad slaughter at Revere last night causes intense excitement to-day. Large crowds have visited the scene of the disaster. The railroad officials have cleared away the debris and ruins, and the road is in running order again. At the time of the collision the accommodation train for Beverly had its red signal lights behind and the red signal light was hoisted at mast head of the signal post for the express to hold up which it did at Everett, but subsequently proceeded. It was under full headway. When near Revere station the engineer evidently not being aware of the proximity of the Beverly train until perhaps within sixty rods of it. He then whistled down brakes, but not soon enough to avert the calamity. Some of those in the rear part of the accommodation train heard the ominous whistle but too late to escape. On came the express train with great velocity, and the engine struck the rearmost car full in the centre and forced its way in, telescope fashion, two-thirds of the length of the car. The smoke-stack was instantly knocked off and the boiler penetrated all of the distance named into the rear car, the rear part of the latter being smashed into a thousand splinters. the debris being thrown out on either side of the engine's tender. Of the rear half of the car not a fragment as big as a house window could be found. The fore part of the engine was literally demolished, its pistons bent and its rods broken. The car was crowded with people, every seat being occupied and many standing in the aisle. Among these the locomotive rushed as quick as a flash, just as the Beverly train had started, mangling and killing in the most frightful manner. But this was not the only and perhaps not the worst visitor the unfortunate passengers had. Simultaneously with the collision the head cap of the boiler was broken and in an instant the wretched sufferers were shrouded in a cloud of hissing steam and deluged with boiling water which brought instant death to many of the wounded and will prove fatal to others who had probably not been otherwise seriously injured. The lamps spilled their contents, and fire here, if any, was undoubtedly extinguished by the water and steam. Although the Beverly train was just moving when the collision took place, this motion did not prevent injury to the cars in front of the last one. The coupling between the two rear cars broke and the platforms of all of them were jammed up together, the smoking car overlaping the baggage car, and rods and timbers were inextricably mixed and interwoven. Fortunately the entanglement was not so great but that the passengers succeeded in getting out quite speedily. Happy was it for them they did so, for the kerosene oil lamps were upset and their contents spilled upon the upholstery and in an instant the smoking car was in a blaze. The flames travelled with great speed from one car to another until three of them were enveloped in fiery flames. These were subsequently moved up the track half a dozen rods and allowed to burn until nothing was left for fire to feed upon. An effort to put them out was prevented and the flames were useful in lighting up the dreadful scene in the rear and facilitate the services for the wounded. The work of rescuing victims was at once commenced, aid being soon furnished from Chelsea, Charlestown and at a late hour from Boston, including surgeons and physicians. The Forest Hose Company just returned from an excursion to Providence, were promptly on the ground having seen the fire from the burning cars. Dozens of poor creatures were jammed with wood and iron work and could not get out. The axe was applied vigorously and soon a rope was applied to the sides of the car and all the remaining frame work was pulled asunder. The dead and mangled bodies were taken out carefully and speedily and placed on the platform or in the depot. Some were pierced with splinters, some had arms and legs broken, while others were mangled beyond recognition. Many, in fact the majority, of the dead were apparently free from bruises; but the peeling skin and deathly pallor which overspread the flesh told plainly that steam and scalding water had been frightful and effective agents of death.

The following is the list of killed and persons who have died up to the present time: Harriet F. Shattuck, Charles B. Shattuck her son, Susan F. Cheney, Wm. H. Jeffreys, all of Lynn; E. T. Sanborn, Providence, died at Marine Hospital; Ella Pearson, James Burns, Lynn; Ernest S. Merrill, Danvers; Hervey A. Foster, Miss Foster, his sister, William H. Emerton, Providence; George W. Bancroft, of firm of C. C. Farwell & Co., Peabody; Rev. S. R. Mason, D. D., Cambridgeport; Thomas Bancroft, of firm of Parington & Bancroft, Lynn; Rev. Ezra S. Gannett, D. D., Boston; Aaron Erickson, Swampscott; Richard Fitzpatrick, unknown: F. G. Swallow, Swampscott; Wm. A. Self, Beverly; Mrs. P. C. Jasper, unknown; John B. Wells; Mary A. Crowley, died at Massachusetts Hospital; and two bodies unrecognized, making 24. Rev. Dr. Gannett was on his way to Beverly, where he was to preach today.

Wounded in Massachusetts General Hospital: John Buckley, aged 70, Beverly, face and chest scalded; Fred Browning, 23, Salem, hands and face; Edward Williams, 22 Lynn face and hands; Stephen O. Thayer, Newton, face and hands; John B. Battis, 46, Salem, face and hands; Anna Foley, 29, Boston; Eliza Hatch, 25, Charlestown. In City Hospital:—Frederick Fitzpatrick, Cambridgeport, compound fracture of arm; Jefferson Portland, arm badly broken; John B. Wells, Boston, since died; Mary Ann Call, Salem, injured in chest: Mary Crowley, Boston; since died; Geo. J. Hill, Lynn; Frank Davis, Charlestown, injured not fatally; Frank B. Cotting, Treasurer of the Grundy Company, face scalded; Edmund B. Hall, firm of E. B. Hall & Co., face and hands scalded; Wm. Lloyd Garrison, Jr., firm of Bailey, Jenkins & Garrison, wool dealers, scalded, not dangerously. There are many others distributed in various places, of whom we are unable to get the names.

A coroner's jury was summoned by Dr. J. B. Forsaith of Chelsea, who viewed the bodies and adjourned until to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock. The total number injured was between 30 and 40, most of whom are likely to recover. The dead were removed from the scene of the accident this afternoon. Dr. Gannett was recognized to-day at noon, and was killed by his chest being crushed. He was well known as pastor of Arlington St. Church, and formerly colleague of the late Dr. Channing, a man whose loss will be severely felt by the community. Dr. Mason of Cambridgeport, was also a man of note and greatly beloved by his congregation (Baptist), leaving a void that cannot be easily filled. Public sentiment throws the fearful responsibility upon the conductor and engineer of the express train. The engineer escaped with a few bruises by jumping from the train. The accommodation train was three-quarters of an hour late, which fact it is said, was known to the express train managers. About 2 o'clock to-day a young man a resident of Chelsea, standing on a platform car viewing the ruins at Revere, the car started throwing him off, striking his head on the rail and is supposed to be fatally injured.

An Account by an Eye-Witness.

Mr. Higgins of Albany, N. Y., who was a passenger on the Pullman train, relates his experience as follows: He was in the smoking car just forward of the parlor car, when the shock of the collision came, in the act of taking his seat on the opposite side, near a vocalist, who had been amusing the passengers with his singing, and was thrown backward some distance, landing on his back across a card table. He recovered himself as soon as possible and ran out upon the platform. The engine and tender of the express train were buried in the rear car of the accommodation train, which had been split as neatly as if it had been done with a saw. Men were then engaged in pulling away the fragments; and in a moment he noticed that the forward cars were in flames. The scene was appalling. The unfortunate victims were shrieking for help, and the train men were working with vigor to release them from their awful situation. Many were crying for water. He heard the cry of Rowe, who was under a car, and saw men tearing away the debris to release him, and others placing jack screws under the frame-work to raise it from its position. His own bruises prevented him from moving quickly, but he took hold and helped carry the dead and wounded to the room in the station. He counted twenty-three dead bodies laid out upon the floor of the station house, and was told that four more were lying on the other side, to be brought in. One man who lay dead had no sign of injury upon his person; no doubt he died from inhalation of steam. The bodies of two women—a mother and daughter, he was told, lay side by side in the station house; the head of the latter reposing upon his great coat. Their faces were covered with cloths, and he did not lift them to see their faces. In fact the excitement was so great that the majority of the people were anxious for their own safety. The scene he describes as truly heart-rending; and he would not have witnessed the terror of those awful hours for untold gold. The cry of the wounded was for water, and in his judgment many of the dead perished from the inhalation of steam as no external bruises were shown upon their bodies. Of course the uninjured train men and passengers did all they could in an impromptu way to extricate the dead and relieve the wounded. Information was sent at once to Boston and a special train came out with aid to the sufferers, and accompanying it was Jere Prescott, the Superintendent of the road. His presence immediately restored order in the excited crowd. Everywhere present with a cool and collected demeanor, hearing reports and answering questions with imperturable self-possession, he facilitated the humane efforts going on, and in a very short time had the wounded cared for in the best way under the circumstances, with the assistance of the surgeons who were brought on the ground. At 12 o'clock an extra train was in readiness and brought the passengers by the Pullman train through to this city, arriving here about five o'clock Sunday morning. Miss Lulu Pearson, who is among the killed, has a brother living in this city, who will leave this morning to take charge of the remains of an only sister, of whom he is bereft in a sudden and awful manner. Mr. Rowe, the brakeman, who was reported last night to be in a comfortable condition, is a resident of this city, to which he removed a short time ago. His wife, on hearing of the accident, went at once to her husband, who was taken to the General Hospital in Boston.

METEOROLOGICAL.

Report from the Signal Office.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 28—1 a. m.—The area of the low barometer which was on Saturday on the lower lakes after being increased to a storm in eastern Tennesse, has moved eastward and is now on the New England coast. The cyclone which had passed northwards through Georgia, gradually spread out and disappeared as such. Brisk south and southwesterly winds continued until Saturday evening from Virginia to Massachusetts, but have very much diminished. Very heavy rains have fallen from central Lake Erie to Vermont, and lighter rains at most points on the middle and eastern coast. The area of cloud and rain has extended over Nebraska and Missouri, and the barometer is falling with easterly winds, on Lake Superior.

Probabilities—Rain in New England will probably clear away to-night and northwesterly winds prevail on Monday from Maryland north and eastward. Light southerly winds with partially cloudy and warm weather are probable for the Southern and Gulf States. Clear and hazy weather for the lower lakes. Threatening weather with local rains from Lake Huron to Illinois and westward.

TESTIMONIAL

(One of Hundreds) speaks for itself.

Cambridgeport, Mass., March. 1871.

Mr. H. G. WHITE:

Dear Sir.—I take pleasure in informing you of the cure effected in my mother's case by your "specialty for Dyspepsia."

Before using it, she had for a long time been very low, and for five weeks was unable to partake of anything more hearty than a spoonful of light broth, without suffering. After taking one bottle, she was able to eat meat and other food without inconvenience.

She has used three bottles and considers herself cured.

Yours respectfully,
HENRY T. WELTCH.
Riverside Market.

Some of the symptons of Dyspepsia are Loss of Appetite, Wind and Rising of Food, Dryness in the Mouth, Heartburn, Distention of the Stomach and Bowels, Costiveness, Headache, Dizziness, Sleeplessness and Low Spirits; unless checked it surely affects the mind as well as body and unfits one for the duties of life in a short time.

MEDICAL.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

CAN BE FOUND AT HIS

PRIVATE MEDICAL ROOMS

No. 172 Cumberland Street,

WHERE he can be consulted privately, and will the utmost confidence of the afflicted, at hours daily, and from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Dr. H. addresses those who are suffering under the affliction of private diseases, whether arising from impure connection or the terrible vice of self-abuse. Devoting his entire time to that particular branch of the medical profession, he feels warranted in GUARANTEEING A CURE IN ALL CASES, whether of long standing or recently contracted, entirely removing the dregs of disease from the system, and making a perfect and PERMANENT CURE.

He would call the attention of the afflicted to the act of his long-standing and well-earned reputation affording sufficient assurance of his skill and success.

Caution to the Public.

Every intelligent and thinking person must know that remedies handed out for general use should have their efficacy established by well tested experience in the hands of a regularly educated physician, whose preparatory studies fit him for all the duties he must fulfil; yet the country is flooded with poor nostrums and cure-alls, puffed up to be the best in the world, which are not only useless, but always injurious. The unfortunate victim of the PARTICULAR in selecting his physician, as it is a lamentable yet incontrovertible fact, that many syphilitic patients are made miserable with ruined constitutions by maltreatment from inexperienced physicians in general practice; for it is a point generally conceded by the best syphilographers, that the study and management of these come diseases should engross the whole time of those who would be competent and successful in their treatment and cure. The inexperienced general practitioner, having neither opportunity nor time to make himself acquainted with their pathology, commonly pursues one system of treatment, in most cases making an indiscriminate use of that antiquated and dangerous weapon, the Mercury.

Have Confidence.

All who have committed an excess of any kind, he for it be the solitary vice of youth, or the stinging rebuke of misplaced confidence in maturer years,

SEEK FOR AN ANTIDOTE IS SEASON.

The Pains and Aches, and Lassitude and Nervous Prostration that may follow Impure Coition.

are the Barometer to the whole system.

Do not wait for the consummation that is sure to follow; do not wait for Unsightly Ulcers, for Disabled Limbs, for Loss of Beauty and Complexion.

How Many Then Made this Testify to This by Unhappy Experience!

Young men troubled with emissions in sleep,—a complaint generally the result of a bad habit in youth,—treated scientifically and a perfect cure warranted or no charge made.

Hardly a day passes but we are consulted by one or more young men with the above disease, some of whom are as weak and emaciated as though they had the consumption, and by their friends are supposed to have it. All such cases yield to the proper and only correct course of treatment, and in a short time are made to rejoice in perfect health.

Middle-Aged Men.

There are many men of the age of thirty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations from the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of semen or spermen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and turbid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the

SECOND STAGE OF SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

I can warrant a perfect cure in such cases, and a full and healthy restoration of the urinary organs.

Persons who cannot personally consult the Dr., can do so by writing, in a plain manner, a description of their diseases, and the appropriate remedies will be forwarded immediately.

All correspondence strictly confidential and will be returned, if desired.

In vain you wrench, pipe, cut and dig at them, at every changing atmosphere they will still send their piercing darts forth like flashes of lightning in sharp, piercing, and unrelenting pain. PILES, PILES,

A very common affection, there being but few persons who are not troubled with them at some period of their life. The disease exists in small tumors in the rectum or about the anus, which are divided into, first, those which are owing to a distended state of the veins of the parts, and the second, those which present the character of a solid tumor. When the tumors are within the rectum, they are called internal piles; when without, and around the anus, external. When they discharge blood they are termed bleeding piles; and when no blood appears, blind piles; and excessive itching about the anus, itching piles. Nothing equals BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES for their cure. Sold by Druggists.
